STORM TOLL 2 DEAD; 8 INJURED

NEGRO HELD HERE AS DRIVER OF DEATH CAR WIND WREAKS HAVOC IN QUIET FARM VALLEY

MAN SLAIN WALKING ROAD SUNDAY NIGHT

Clyde Dees, 37, is in the hospital in a critical condition, with a broken back, both legs broken and crushed ribs.

Dees, who had been in South Texas for about eight months was walking and going to the home of his mother, two and a half miles west of Ben Arnold, Sunday night. He was struck by a car and found on the road between Elm Creek and Ben Arnold Sunday night between 11 and 12 o'clock.

A. G. Greer and Modest Pemberton of Waco and Clyde Oliver of Buckholts found the man on the road and brought him to the Cameron Hospital.

The injured man was unable to talk to Sheriff Max Kennedy Monday. No arrests have been reported.

P. C. Coleman, negro, who lives on a farm near Ben Arnold was arrested by Sheriff R. M. Kennedy late Monday and confessed that his car struck Clyde Dees, 37, on Highway 77 north of Cameron late Sunday night.

Coleman arrested at his home was apprehended through a neat bit of detective work on the part of Sheriff Kennedy. A radiator cap from a Studebaker car and pieces of broken glass were picked up at the scene of the crash and were the only clues the officers had to solve the hit and run death mystery.

Dees died Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock in a local hospital. He lay near the pavement almost midway between (Turn to Page 8)

'HONOR'

BY C. W. GJEDDE

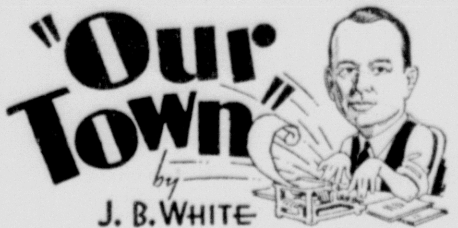

Trustworthy, loyal helpful—he faces every problem at all times with a smile on his youthful face and a determination in his heart to conquer—and lay one more stone in the foundation of the Boy Scouts of America, on which civilization to come may tread, and marvel at its un-faltering sturdiness.

The courageous pioneers that guided the course of covered wagons across that vast waste of plains and deserts that lay between the Old America and the promise of a new, were scouts. The brave men who followed the trail blazed by Stephen F. Austin, into the wilds of Texas were scouts. Bowie, Boone, Austin and Cody carved their ideals deep into the foundation of scouting and established a code, a tradition, and an ideal that is respected and passed on by the greatest of all organizations—The Boy Scouts of America.

Our Scouts of today, dressed in their picturesque uniforms, watching eagerly for a chance to do someone a good turn—our Scouts of today, camping, hiking, swimming and matching their skill and understanding with nature—our scouts singing "Taps" at the close of day, around the dying embers of a "Smiling campfire" will be the citizens of tomorrow—citizens that will carry the Torch of Honor on to a higher and greater civilization.

There is the school of life, although taught by play, it builds into them a golden character, upon which one may find the loved inscription: "On my Honor I Will Do My Best."

Let us honor Troop No. 52, in Cameron, on its eighth anniversary, which it is celebrating this month.

That moot question whether women drivers are more careful and more accident proof than men is reopened by records of an accident insurance company dealing with 7,600,000 licensed drivers and their accident records.

While the proportion of women drivers is about one in four, their accident record is from four to five times as good as that of the opposite sex. The ration of fatal accidents among men was one to every 726 drivers; among women, one to every 3,558. Of non fatal accidents there was one for every 22 men and one to every 89 women.

Considered alone these statistics make out a good cause for the woman driver, but the fact is they prove nothing. Men will read them and still prefer to meet on the highways the vehicle with a man at the wheel.

The figures fail to show the relative mileage of the man and the woman driver; to what extent the proneness of the male driver to go abroad in weather which keeps the woman at home may affect the results, and whether the woman's driving takes her out during hours of greatest traffic congestion. These are all unknown quantities, yet they are essential to an accurate conclusion.

If it should be found in the final analysis that the weaker sex is safer with herself at the wheel, the motoring public probably would attribute it to that axiom of the open road: "You never know what a woman driver will do next." Perhaps the public acts accordingly.

The fact remains that there are speed maniacs in both sexes, careful drivers and careless drivers in both trousers and skirts, thoughtless drivers and thoughtful drivers on both sides, but when it comes to a tight squeeze the man is the better able to come through without a scratch.

Now comes May, one of the prettiest and most pleasant months of the year. Winter has gone, the sudden showers of April has past, the heat of summer has not yet come and vegetation prepared to spread with lavish hand its beauty all about us.

The origin of the name of May months is easy to trace. Not so May. It is generally agreed that it was named for Maia, the Roman Goddess of Spring, but there is also a theory that May is the abbreviated form of Majores and that the month was so called because it was held sacred to older men as June was dedicated to Juniores or younger men.

Originally May was the third month, but it became fifth when the Romans placed January and February at the beginning of the year. It always has had 31 days. Its special flower is the hawthorn and its gem the emerald.

Since the earliest times the first of May has been marked by outdoor festivities and children have danced about a Maypole for hundreds of years.

Today many schools have May Day festivals in which gay costumes, pretty flowers and dancing complete (Turn to page 10)

Judge Jeff T. Kemp, is a candidate for re-election to another term as County Judge, he announced for publication to the great family of Herald readers and the people of Milam county.

In seeking another term in this office Judge Kemp submits his record of service to the people believing that a record thus made needs little to plead its favorable consideration by the people among whom he has lived for many years.

Few men in public office, his friends point out, have been more faithful to duty nor have they given more time and thought to the affairs of their county than has Judge Kemp who has been instrumental in placing the county in a most favorable light both for service to the people and its financial stability made possible by rigid economy and advantageous public administration of its departments.

Two are dead and five injured in the wake of a tornado that swept the Oakville community near Tracy at 2 a. m. Tuesday. Destructive center of the cyclone took its heaviest toll on the Ed Sims farm where the bodies of the dead were found when day broke over the scene of the night horror.

The Sims farm, a large plantation, lies in a peaceful, fertile valley of the San Gabriel river within three miles of Tracy and is inhabited by tenants who cultivate its rich acres.

The tornado spent its force down that valley, taking the lives of a negro woman, Annie Moore, 62, and her son, Ira Johnson, 20.

Mrs. S. L. Hook, white woman, was injured when her home crashed. Mrs. Isabell Masiel and her son, Sam, 12, Mexicans, were also injured.

Eight other Mexicans, whose names were not obtained, were injured. More than 200 chickens were killed.

Four homes were splintered and their timbers scattered over a wide area. Barns and other improvements were leveled and trees were stripped of limbs, their twisted and gaunt trunks giving mute evidence of the power of the tornadic winds that swept into the little valley while its occupants were sleeping.

Annie Moore was found daed beneath the floor of her home. The wind picked up the shanty and carried it 50 feet from its blocks and (Turn to Page 8)

HE'S A LEVEL HEADED BUSINESS MAN

A person at his desk may be the most conservative of individuals—the kind who not only considers a matter once but twice, and is likely to sleep over it, if the matter is really important. The world is full of men and women who are most considerate of the members of their families—people who constantly think of the happiness and security of those dependent upon them. The level-headed and considerate people are regarded the sail of the earth. They aren't the type who would ever get involved in an automobile accident because of carelessness or recklessness on their part.

But the level-headed person—the considerate individual—level headed when it comes to business matters—considerate when it comes to the members of his family, the sick and infirm, is likely to drive carelessly or recklessly when he gets out on the road. In proof of this, drivers are asked to take note of some of their fellow motorists on curves, near the top of hills, or those who cut in and out of traffic—the drivers who rush the light or fail to slow up or stop at stop signs.

Such acts distinguish the different or dangerous driver from the safe driver. Not all the million drivers who were involved in accidents which killed more than 36,000 and injured around a million last year were of the so-called "smarty" type. Many of those who drove through the red light, on the wrong side of the road, passed on curves, or operated recklessly were persons otherwise level-headed and considerate.

The San Gabriel Pirate Tales

The San Gabriel community had a splendid celebration and an impressive ceremony when the corner stone to the new school building was laid Sunday afternoon, April 26.

T. N. Wood, Superintendent of San Gabriel schools, was chairman of ceremonies. In an exact and profound manner, Sup't Wood gave the purpose of the ceremonies in that it was very fitting to make the corner stone laying a part of the Centennial celebration as the stone that was being used in the construction of the new building was the same as that used in the three early missions, located along the San Gabriel River near the old Kolb place.

Johnnie Kunz, a junior in high school, gave clearly and in an elegant manner, a tribute to Lamar, the Father of Texas Schools.

Guy T. Newton, County Superintendent of Schools, related the great help Milam county was receiving from governmental projects. Mr. Newton reported that Milam county had forty students attending high schools and fifteen students attending universities by the direct help of the N. Y. A. Mr. Newton also related that there were three P. W. A. projects in Milam county; namely, one in each of the towns, Cameron, Rockdale and Thorndale; and that there were two W. P. A. projects, one of which is the construction of the new stone school building at San Gabriel.

Father Tom O'Sullivan, the Catholic priest from Burlington, discussed most interestingly and most intelligently the historical and spiritual value of the San Gabriel Missions. Father O'Sullivan emphasized the value of the doctrines of Christianity that were used in 1750 in christianizing the pagan Indians, and that we, in this glorious twentieth century, must not let religion and morality be divorced; neither must we let religion and education be divorced.

Father O'Sullivan stressed how the pioneers trailed the political and religious paths, and in so doing, gave us this wonderful state in which we live. These pioneers believed that the individuals were for the state, and it is our duty to continue to stand for these high principles and never destroy God nor Independence. Father O'Sullivan in closing left this wonderful thought with us, we must respect the stars and stripes, our freedom and our God. We must have love for our government, love for law and authority and love for our state. Then the prayer of Geo. Washington at Valley Forge followed.

C. E. Wayman, Director of projects in District 9, presented the purpose and idea of P. W. A. Mr. Wayman reported there were 194 projects in district 9, 5000 men for labor, and that 3,400 of these men were in the constructing process now. Besides this vast amount of work being done by W. P. A., there is also much money used in educational work which is not constructive work. This District 9, Mr. Wayman stated, has more educational projects under way than any other district, a record of which we are duly proud.

E. A. Camp, Attorney of Rockdale, told vividly and concretely in his usual humorous and interesting manner, the history of the San Gabriel schools.

The first institution of learning, as the story was told, was at the mission San Xavier, located on the old Kolb Farm. There was a long lapse of time before education thrived again.

The first school house erected was in 1850 by the Locklin family at the the big town "Downtown". This structure was a log house, and Mr. Overton, the deceased Mrs. E. W. Y. Kirkman's grandmother, was the teacher. Then Uncle John Hamlin established a school on his farm. Uncle Sam Locklin, was a student at this school. A great progress was then made toward education. A one room school house was erected with lumber by Mr. Locklin, Mr. Hamlin, and Mr. Buck Perry. This school had the first trustees, Mr. Corneal and Mr. Locklin (Uncle Sam's father). Then there was another school erected on the Lee Whilam's farm. Mr.

Holton was the teacher, and he wore boots and carried a six shooter to protect the children from the Indians.

The first permanent school, a one room structure, was at Beard Springs. Later, a two room structure was built. The teachers were Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Nellie Hume. Mr. Frank Clement, and Mrs. J. A. Clark. The school was later moved to the territory where the present school of San Gabriel now stands.

To add to the program of the day, the Cameron (Yoe High) band furnished the orchestral music. Their numbers, The Star Spangled Banner, Shine Little Glow Worm and The Eyes of Texas were beautifully and well rendered, and were greatly enjoyed.

The San Gabriel School Chorus with their Texas songs added to the spirit of the occasion. Their songs were rendered well, and were enjoyed.

A cylindrical hole in the corner stone was partially filled with publications of county papers, pictures of entire school, present school board members, some ex-school board members, a key to the old school building, and a group picture of home economics and agriculture classes.

A representative from each of the grades brought their respective grade's contributions which were group pictures of class, poems, class history, class prophecy, and greeting to the grades when the occasion comes that the corner stone will be opened, which will be many years hence.

After all contributions were duly placed in the corner stone, it was sealed.

It is probable that anyone living today will not have the privilege of again seeing what was put in the stone, but it will be very interesting

General Library eReport

In the opinion of the six librarians; namely, Irene Fulcher, Marie Mertz, Evelyn Garner, Oscar Thies, Alyne Faulkner, and Sarah Jeannette Yeager, our work in the library during the past semester has not only been enjoyed by each of us, but has proved very beneficial from a literary standpoint. Our constant connection with the library has served to acquaint us with the many different authors represented therein, and the type of literature in which they specialize.

J. Frank Dobie, Kipling and Zane Grey seem to be the favorite authors of the entire student body, since their volumes are continuously read during each period of every day.

The fifth grade seems to take more interest in reading than any other grade in school; however, we will not hesitate to give the seventh grade credit for reading the most funny pages found in daily papers.

The cooperation between students, teachers, and librarians has been most favorable throughout the year, and the librarians extend their most sincere thanks.

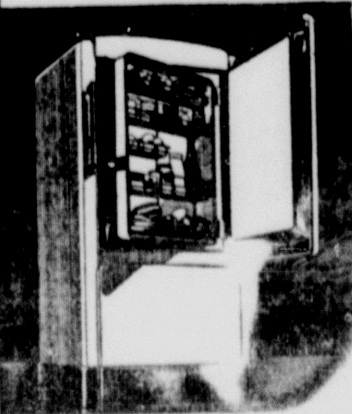

The Fifth Grade News

The fifth grade has been studying a very interesting project in reading, which was about Texas. We studied about the Father of Texas schools, who was Lamar. We have been studying about Texas.

We all made good grades on our six week tests. We are studying about Canada and the Northern lands in Geography. We are diagramming sentences in English. In arithmetic we are studying decimals. We all think the fifth grade is very interesting.

COMETS LOSE AGAIN

The luckless Cameron Comets lost their third straight Cen-Tex game of the year at Jarrell Sunday by a 6 to 3 count. Lefty Jackson and Bill Worcester pitched for the Comets and both pitched nice ball but four Comet errors and one of the rankest home town decisions in years by umpire Hawthorne cost the Comets the game.The Comets were away to a good start in the first inning, making three runs. Jarrell counted two tallies in their half of the first on a Comet error and hits by Clark and Sigler.The game rocked on without further scoring until the last of the fifth inning when Jarrell loaded the bases with two men out. Sigler, Jarrell catcher, then hit a roller to shortstop Worcester. Worcester apparently threw Sigler out at first by a wide margin, but to the amazement of the large crowd, umpire Hawthorne called Sigler safe and allowed Jarrell to score four runs and win the game.Bill Worcester came in to pitch at this point and Jarrell never came close to scoring on his pitching. Worcester also was the star hitter of the day with three scoring singles. Charlie Bell, Comet catcher, also obtained two safe hits.While the umpiring at Jarrell left much to be desired, the fans and the Jarrell players were very good sports and the umpiring seemed to be as disgusting to them as to the Comets.

CORNER STONE IS LAIDHow little did the Spaniards and Indians who built the three San Gabriel Missions at San Gabriel Milam county in 1746-149 dream that the same kind of stones and the same source from which these stones were secured to build these Missions would be used to build a modern school.On Sunday, April 26 the corner stone of the new San Gabriel school building was laid.Some months ago, the school was able to secure a W. P. A. grant to build this new school. The school board remembered the stories about the tearing down of the old San Xavier Mission walls. The farmers had used the stones from the walls for well curbs, chimneys and foundation for houses.The San Gabriel School Board went to the University of Texas librarian and she reported that the source of the rock for the Missions which were built on the San Xavier River in 1746-47 came from the balcones fault line which runs through the heart of Milam county, for it was on this line that the San Xavier Mission was located. So stones were excavated from this source, and now San Gabriel Milam County, has a school that will not only stand out as a school that can offer among the best in education, but one that offers something of historical value.The San Gabriel school building has eleven fully equipped class rooms, a spacious study hall, home economics

March of Time Film Here Sunday Is a Dog Classic

Sportsmen and dog lovers will have a particular interest in the new issue of the March of Time, opening at the Cameron Theatre Sunday and Monday, for one of the principal episodes is devoted to a dramatization of the National Field Trials Championships of 1936 at Grand Junction, Tennessee. March of Time shows the dogs, mostly Pointers with a few setters, as they gather for America's No. 1 gun-dog event.

Three hours of hard, intelligent running must be put in by the dog that would be champion. March of Time points out. In covering his 30 or 35 miles, he must show that he knows what he is hunting for—quail. When he winds them, he must stop dead in his tracks, let his handler tell the judges, stand staunch to wing and shot while the birds are flushed.

Sensation of this year's trials was a little four-year-old pointer, Sulu, who when her hour came, made the spectators sit up and take notice. Down the course she started like the wind. Alert and obedient to her master's direction, in her second hour she pointed three covies. Near the end of the course, in a certain greasy gully, the championship was really decided. Like a statue, Sulu froze on a covey of quail that no other entry spotted before or after. And as the verdict was announced, the new national champion, keenest dog of a keenly bred strain, trotted back to the kennels where tails wagged in awe-struck admiration.

March of Time sent one of its camera crews to Junction to film the field trials and for two weeks, they worked with the dogs, catching every phase of the meet. The pictures are said by sportsmen to be among the best of their kind ever made.

The field trials episode is one of the four which make up the new March of Time.

Jobs For Deserving Boys Who Want To Attend School

A plan to aid deserving boy students was being projected in Cameron in a survey of the business houses with a view of obtaining positions for part time work, it was announced by S. A. Cottle, president of the Athletic Council.

It has come to the attention of a number that boys who want to attend high school in Cameron can realize upon opportunities for educational advantages if places can be found for them.

Now that business conditions have so materially improved it is entirely possible to take a number of students for work on Saturdays and after school and by this means they can earn enough to pay their tuition and maintain themselves while in school.

This plan is desirable and no better co-operative service could be rendered than for a number of merchants who can make places to tender them to rural boys and others who live in city to obtain situations. The schools are accounted our greatest asset and the greater number to take advantage of them would extend their influence and benefits.

The appeal is: If you have a place for one or more deserving boys, communicate with Mr. Cottle or anyone who may assist in rendering this service; you will have the satisfaction of knowing you have afforded the best possible opportunity for the youth and at the same time you will be benefitted by the employment of needed help in your business. Let it not be said that one deserving student desired opportunity and found the door closed to him for the lack of a situation.

TEXAS ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

By Lane Horstmann, 3-Y
Remember one hundred years ago, Don't forget the Alamo, In which Travis died, In which the rest lost their lives. Then along came the Battle of Goliad, The most cruel battle that we had, When one little lad Stepped bravely out and said: "We are brave Texans and we know our rights," And I think we have kept it until this night. Then the battle of San Jacinto, The very one that made Santa Anna Surrender And then Texas joined the U. S. A. And is celebrating this very day.

Miss Celia Hebner Becomes the Bride of Joseph David Hartnett of Galveston In Morning Ceremony at St. Monica's Church

At St. Monica's Church on Saturday morning at 8 o'clock, Miss Celia Hebner and Joseph David Hartnett of Galveston were united in marriage. Rev. George Apel, pastor, read the ring mass.

The altar of the church was beautifully decorated with red radiance roses and fern.

At the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Otto Setz of this city, Miss Josephine Hefferman of Galveston, accompanied by F. E. Jackson of this city, took their places at the altar. They were followed by Miss Agnes Hebner, sister of the bride, and Harry Bartel, best man of Galveston. The bride and groom entered the church together.

Miss Agnes Hebner wore a yellow crepe suit with harmonizing accessories and carried an arm bouquet of rainbow colored sweet peas tied with dainty yellow ribbon.

Miss Hefferman was dressed in a blue crepe suit with matching accessories and also carried an arm bouquet of rainbow colored sweet peas.

The bride was becomingly dressed in a white crepe suit, sport style, and which was trimmed in white fur. The bridal bouquet was of white Calla lilies. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hebner of this city. After completing Yoe High School here she attended St. Mary's Infirmary School of Nursing, Galveston, and where she has lived the past several years.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. J. P. Hefferman of Galveston. He is a graduate of the Kirwin High school of Galveston. At present he is employed with a brewery company in Galveston, where he and Mrs. Hartnett will make their home after a honeymoon.

Following the wedding ceremony, a breakfast and reception for only a few was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hebner.

Those from out of town present for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hefferman, Miss Josephine Hefferman, Harry Bartel, Miss Mattie Mae Puntus of Galveston, Mrs. Ed. Boudreaux of Houston.

room where the dining table was laden with gifts, covered with a red, white and blue umbrella.

Following the refreshment course of ice cream and angel food cake, the guests were given pieces of a large jig saw puzzle, and when pieced together, it was a Texas map and on it this wording, "The Map is Over—Goodbye." This map was hand painted by Miss Vivian Ondrej, who also painted the pretty bride's book.

Plate favors were small bouquets of blue bonnets tied with red ribbon. Out of town guests present for the party were: Mrs. J. P. Hefferman and daughter, Josephine of Galveston; Mrs. Ed Boudreaux of Houston; Mrs. Joseph Hampel, Mrs. Hugo Boedeker, Mrs. Fritz Glaser, Buckholts; Mrs. Arnold Jungmann, Yarellton; Mrs. Gus Schultz, Burlington; and Miss Agnes Matocha, Bryan.

Miss Josephine Baylor Becomes the Bride of Oliver Leslie Hayes In Home Wedding Saturday

A wedding, pretty in its simplicity, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Cox on Saturday night at nine o'clock, united in marriage Miss Josephine Baylor and Oliver Leslie Hayes, both of Cameron.

Rev. O. C. Acree, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated in the ring ceremony.

Wedding music was played by Mr. G. Cox at the piano. Mrs. Fred Henry sang "At Dawning."

The wedding party entered through the conservatory into the living room. Ferns, Amaryllis, and other seasonal flowers in the conservatory made a pretty background. In the living room, bowls and vases of roses were placed and tall green burning candles were on the piano, table and book shelf.

Rev. Acree preceded the wedding party into the room. He was followed by Coleman Duncan and Bennie Archer, best man. Miss Ruby Baylor, bridesmaid and Mrs. Coleman Duncan, matron of honor, both sisters of the bride, entered together. Miss Ruby Baylor was dressed in blue organdy and Mrs. Duncan in yellow organdy.

Mary Jo Fikes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bailey Fikes, was flower girl. She wore a dainty blue ruffled organdy frock with a pink sash.

The bride and groom stood at the opening between the conservatory and the living room. The bride was dressed in white organdy over satin. Her skirt was floor length and full with pin tucks at the bottom. The sleeves were short and puffed. The collar of the dress was round, with dainty buttons down the front of the waist. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and ferns, tied with white tulle.

Mrs. Hayes is a daughter of Mrs. Mary Baylor, the graduate of Yoe High School. Mr. Hayes is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Moody Hayes. Miss Frances Elizabeth Smith Bride of Houston Attorney In Houston Church Ceremony Thurs.

The following was taken from the Houston Chronicle being an account of the marriage of Miss Frances Elizabeth Smith, former Cameron girl and Yoe High School graduate:

The marriage of Miss Frances Elizabeth Smith, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. David P. Smith of Cameron and Houston, to Joseph Williams Mercer, son of Mrs. Nell Williams Mercer, was solemnized Thursday evening at Christ Episcopal Church. Calla lilies filled the altar vases, and white tapers in the altar candelabra gave the light, with palms affording contrasting greenery backgrounds. Dr. James P. DeWolfe performed the ceremony and Rev. George W. Barnes, organist, provided the wedding music.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a model of white satin, designed in the princess silhouette, with a high cowl neckline and long sleeves fastened along the forearm with small satin buttons. The slender skirt extended into a long train and her veil of illusion fell from a coronet of tulle ornamented with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Maidell Smith, who served as her sister's only attendant, was in a formal gown of delicate pink chiffon, made with a low rounded neckline, draped sleeves, three-quarters in length, and a long full skirt which ended in a slight sweep at the hemline. She wore a small hat of pale pink straw and carried a bouquet of talisman roses. John Compton was best man and the ushers were John Kelly and Egbert Womack.

The bride's mother wore a costume of orchid chiffon with accessories in black, and the groom's mother wore a springtime ensemble. Both had corsages of rosebuds.

Dr. and Mrs. Smith entertained with a small reception for members of the family and close friends following the ceremony. White flowers were used about the home and the bride's table was centered with an embossed wedding cake, with white roses and Queen Anne's lace completing the table decorations. Miss Elsie Dell Clark presided at the punch service.

Mr. and Mrs. Mercer have gone on their wedding trip to Monterrey, the bride traveling in a costume suit of gray with dubbonet trim and accessories in the deep red tone. On returning they will be at home at 512 West Gray.

RECEPTION FOR DR. AND MRS. L. R. SCARBROUGH

Honoring Dr. and Mrs. L. R. Scarbrough of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Henderson entertained in their home with a reception Saturday afternoon. Roses and Amaryllis lent fragrance an decor to the reception suite, where Mr. and Mrs. Henderson and Dr. and Mrs. Scarbrough greeted their guests. Punch was served in the library. Assisting with the hospitality were the Henderson daughters, Mesdames Boyd Wells of Austin, Hamilton Bonnet of San Antonio and John Cecil Luepfer of Cameron.

The guest list was made up of what Dr. Scarbrough called "The Old Guard." That is, those who were active members of the Cameron Baptist Church during the years of his pastorate here. It was a mutual joy for these members of "the old guard" and for their beloved pastor and wife to meet again. Dr. Scarbrough came to Cameron a very young man to begin his ministry. His ordination was a day of great importance in Baptist history. Among the dignitaries present in Cameron for the occasion were Reverend G. W. Scarbrough, father or Dr. Scarbrough, George W. Truett, and Dr. J. B. Gambrill. The Cameron Baptist church is proud to know that Dr. Scarbrough received the early experiences which helped to equip him to become one of the most useful and best known preachers in the Baptist denomination. He was married to Miss Neppie Warren of Abilene during the years of his service here, and his oldest child, Warren was born in Cameron. In 1901 Dr. Scarbrough left Cameron and since that time has been made president of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. His visit Saturday was made as he was en route to Bryan to preach in the First Baptist Church there. Dr. Scarbrough has recently held two meetings in Florida, and he and Mrs. Scarbrough are to sail from New York on the 23rd of May to visit all of the Baptist churches and Missions of South America. They will return to Texas some time in October.

As a surprise, after receiving the guests Mrs. Davis, by appointment called for her mother for a drive to the city. Saying she had forgotten something she told her mother she would have to go by her home. Seeing a number of cars she asked her mother to come in because it were probably some relatives and she would be delayed.

On entering Mrs. Holtzclaw was greeted by the guests singing "Happy Birthday to You." Realizing at once the significance of the occasion, Mrs. Holtzclaw entered into the spirit of the tribute with merriment.

Down The Lane or MEMORIES

By Berenice McLerran

On a September morn' (24th), 1854, a baby boy was born to pioneer parents, Mr. James and Mrs. Nancy Wilson Sampson, one mile east of Cameron. The son was christened Thomas G. Sampson, and today is the oldest living Cameron born citizen. Being born during slavery time, which is portrayed as a period of color and romance, a period of love and devotion of the black man to his master, and the time that will live through the ages to represent the true South, adds interest to Thomas G. Sampson's life.

James Sampson, father of Thomas G. Sampson, came to Cameron in 1849 from Columbus, Mississippi. Nancy Wilson came five or six years before with her father, W. B. Wilson and settled on Little River about one mile above where the Southern Pacific bridge crosses. James Sampson bought 1156 acres of land of the Daniel Monroe league here at 50c an acre. The 1156 acres is situated between Cameron and Little River on the east.

Thomas G. Sampson married Susan Princess McCown, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wiltz J. McCown. They were married in the two story brick McCown home, which stood on the banks of Little River and was built in 1852. In its place now stands the Lamkin home. Dr. Thomas A. Polk married Mattie, another of the McCown girls and Dr. Vol Reed married a third sister, Maggie McCown.

Following are some comments made on life by Mr. Sampson and some interesting incidents which occurred in Cameron in the pioneer days:

"We had about twenty slaves. They wanted to leave when they knew they were freed, but later they all drifted back to us. My father sold one old negro, Bob Andy, a blacksmith, to Algie Allen for $2800 in gold. During the days before the Civil War you rarely ever saw a white person working in the field.

"We had to pay for our education in those days. I first attended school at what is known as the 'Old Academy' in Cameron, and later went to Port Sullivan. Port Sullivan was then a thriving little town and was larger than Cameron. There were three or four hundred students attending school there. John D. Morrison was one of the teachers. I later went to Baylor University, Waco.

"Before we had banks in Cameron Wilson Trotter a gunsmith and an Englishman, was county treasurer. Trotter decided he would like to take a trip back to England, so he buried the county's money, which was silver and gold, in his garden which was located where the Wm. P. Carey Lumber Company now stands. On his trip he was shipwrecked, but was rescued. It was told that the Englishman feared that the people in Cameron would think that he stole the money and ran off with it, but he finally got back to Cameron and dug up the money.

Between Cameron and Hoyte on Highway 36, there is a place called 'Jail Hollow'. It bears this name due to the post oak trees being cut down there and used to build the first jail here. The jail was two stories. The prisoners were taken up to the second story and let down into the first story by a ladder and then the ladder was pulled up and a trap door weighing about 400 pounds was dropped down.

Only one prisoner escaped from this jail and he was assisted by two women, his mother and wife. An interesting story is told of this prisoner, Joe Walker. Walker married Dorothy Coolie, who was known as the most beautiful girl in Cameron. Dorothy was first married to a man by the name of John Reed. He went to the Civil War but deserted the army, but was finally caught and carried back. She quit Reed. After that three men who were in love with Dorothy, got licenses the same day to marry her. One of the men's name was Yoe. It seemed that Dorothy admired men with courage. Nevertheless, the man by the name of Yoe had the courage to go and tell the other two men that he was going to marry Dorothy and that they had better not show up. Yoe owned several race horses and sometime after that he was killed while at the races away from Cameron. Dorothy felt heir to the horses. She later married Joe Walker, who killed a man. It was stated that the killing occurred near where Skeeze is located now. Walker was placed in jail here and was to go to the penitentiary. His wife, Dorothy and Joe Walker's mother, went to the old log jail where Joe was. As the Jailer, whose name was Broadnax, stooped down to put the shackles on Joe's ankles, Dorothy threw a shawl over the Jailer's head and the two women held him while Joe escaped on a horse. Walker stayed out in West Texas a number of years and Dorothy went to him. The case was finally settled and Joe returned to Cameron and farmed. He was later killed.

In the early days here there were what we called Taverns, serving as hotels in those days. One was managed by a woman by the name of Harmon and the other one by Lum Reed, who was postmaster here during the Civil War. Reed could not read nor write. The post office then was located where the Milam Hotel stands today. Although Reed could not read nor write, he did not let this stop him from being postmaster. When the mail was brought here you had to look through it yourself to find your letters. Letters were mailed out of here in two directions, Marlin and Caldwell. They were carried to these places by pony express.

The first postoffice was at the Alsie Allen place about seven miles from Cameron, near Walker's Creek.

In 1863, there was a terrible drought here. Little River was dry in many places with deep holes in it three or four miles apart.

This was about the time I was given my first horse, saddle and gun by my uncle, John Wilson.

In the early days, meat had very little value, due to the wild meat in the woods. There were plenty of turkeys, deer, geese, ducks and squirrels. Thousands of head of cattle were driven from here to Kansas and sold. Among those who used to drive the steers from here to Kansas were Marion Zellner, John Smith, Will H. Wilson, Steve Smith, William McClellan and Johnnie Newton. They paid $10.00 per head for steers not under five years of age and not over seven years.

Billy King was county clerk here during the Civil War and George Thatch served as sheriff.

I was nearly a grown man before I ever saw a nickel. The smallest change we had was a ten cent piece, and it was in 1873 before we began to accept green backs in payment of debts, as our old Confederate greenbacks were in repute, causing the suspicion.

Lumber was cheap in those days and was hauled from East Texas by ox wagon. Goods were hauled from Millikan by ox wagon and mules.

Among the early residents of Cameron mentioned by Mr. Sampson were: Jeff Rogers, W. W. Oxshier, "Turk" Jeffries, C. M. Hobbies, David Meyers, Captain Batte, John Batte, John Lamkin, Jim Lamkin, E. Porter Guhl, Dr. Wiley and many other good citizens.

Where the City Park is now, Augustus Evard operated jointly with Goodhue Wilson a grist mill, also a distillery and flour mill.

After Mr. Sampson attended school at Baylor University, Waco, he came back to Cameron and farmed and raised stock. He then sold out and went into the banking business, helping organize the Citizens Bank in 1900, with Hilry Smith and Mr. Sneed. Sneed finally sold out and then later Mr. Sampson sold to other business men of Cameron. Since then Mr. Sampson has been engaged in real estate and loan business.

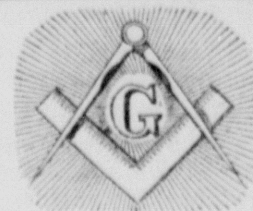

Mr. Sampson has three children who are: Jim Sampson and Mrs. Ed Taylor of Cameron and Fred Sampson of New York. Mrs. T. G. Sampson died in 1918.

The Willingness of a Bank to Loan —is limited only by the fundamental rules of good banking practice.

IN making loans a bank uses primarily the money of others—its depositors. As custodian of this money it is obligated to obtain adequate assurance that its borrowers are responsible and its loans are safe. Furthermore, a large part of a bank's deposits are subject to withdrawal on demand and it must always have ample cash available.

For this reason preference is given to commercial loans for current business activities, because their cash proceeds are sufficient, within a specified period, to repay the loan. These repayments, together with new deposits, enable the bank to meet the requirements of depositors and to make fresh loans.

NEGRO HELD

Elm Creek and Ben Arnold with both legs broken, back broken and ribs crushed by the impact. He was found by Greer and Pemberton and brought to the hospital in Cameron. He is believed to have been hit around 10 p. m. and for more than two hours lay by the roadside without attention.

Sheriff Kennedy and Deputy Clarence McCall, early Monday began working on the case. They went to the scene of the accident and picked up the radiator cap and bits of broken glass. He came back to Cameron fixed the make of car and after visiting the garages and wrecking houses discovered that a negro living near Ben Arnold owned a Studebaker car. When the Sheriff reached the negro's home he found a Studebaker car with a bent fender, the glass in the right light broken and blood stains on the car. Confronted with the evidence the negro confessed and was placed in jail. Charges of murder and failing to render aid have been filed against him.

Discussing the accident the negro said that Sunday night with his wife they were taking another couple home from church in Cameron. They were meeting another car with bright lights and as they were passing they saw a man but were too close to stop. "I thought we just brushed the man, and didn't know that he was hit," he said.

Funeral services were held for Dees Tuesday morning at Watts Switch in the home of his mother with the Leland Green Funeral home directing arrangements.

crushed it over her body. Her son, Ira Johnson, 20, was found 100 yards in the field where the wind had hurled him. His head was crushed and his body broken in many places.

When the storm struck Mr. Hook seized his wife with his left arm and holding his two small children under each leg, clung to the floor with his free arm and thus saved their lives. As a side of the wall caved in he put up his feet and held off the blow from his family. The wind then lifted the wall from the huddled group and blew it away. The family then fled to their car and stayed until the storm subsided. Mr. Hook was slightly injured.

Mrs. Masiel was injured internally and her son, Sam, 12, suffered face lacerations. She has five other children. The home was blown away leaving them sitting on the floor.

Close by Wilma Whittington, school teacher, said they were not disturbed and did not know of the havoc wrought until long after the wind subsided. Her home is only a half mile away from the valley swept by the storm.

Homes were blown off blocks, fences and barns torn down. Iron beds from the homes were twisted. Some of the large trees had only one side stripped.

Heavy rains fell and hail sprinkled over a large area. More than one inch fell in Cameron.

this office. The public has found at all times a friendly and considerate atmosphere in his office and those who have had business to transact have found that Mr. Nabours has not only kept his records in order but has mastered every detail of the office and is able to dispatch the business with a minimum of time. Mr. Nabours has also employed efficient assistants and together they make an efficient team to transact the people's business.

Mr. Nabours has followed the policy that the office of county clerk, one of the most important from the standpoint of volume of business transacted, is the clearing house for the records of the county and the people and that each one who comes receives the same courteous treatment and consideration. He has uniformly served all alike. Small transactions have been accounted for in the same manner as large ones and thus has Mr. Nabours kept his promise to become the servant of all the people.

The office is operated efficiently and expertly with only two assistants. When the fee system was abolished Mr. Nabours could have obtained additional help if he had so elected, but he feels and has felt all along that he owes it to the tax payers to be economical and he has practiced rigid economy and often has made personal sacrifices to give that extra measure of service unique among public officials.

Keeping the records of the county is an important business. That Mr. Nabours has succeeded is proven by the service he has rendered. He has through long experience in other lines of business equipped himself to do this work. He has had sufficient experience in this office to guarantee the maximum of efficiency at all times and in offering for re-election he submits his qualifications and general knowledge of the business of the office.

Mr. Nabours will visit with and talk to as many voters as possible during the campaign. If there be any with whom he is unable to discuss his race, he extends in this way a plea for their vote. Anything his friends may do for his campaign for re-election will be greatly appreciated.

vantage as their county clerk.

Mr. Rudder said in announcing his campaign that he greatly appreciates the number who have encouraged him to make the race. He does not believe in long terms in office; that the privilege of holding public office should be rotated. Mr. Rudder wants the office because he needs the job and believes he can serve in every way satisfactory to the people.

His pledge is honesty and efficiency in office. Based on his qualifications and the fact that he desires to serve in this office, he asks the people to elect him.

During the coming months he plans to make an active canvass of the voters, to see and talk to each one about his race. If there be any among them he does not see personally he takes this method of inviting their support.

Mr. Rudder said that the only pledge he was privileged to make is to render a faithful, efficient and honest service. He would count it a rare privilege to serve the people and in exchange for the confidence implied by his nomination he would pledge his best efforts to render them a worthwhile service.

Medical Society Indorses Newton

Unanimous indorsement of the candidacy of Dr. W. R. Newton for State Senator from the Thirteenth District, has been voted here by Milam County Medical Society. These resolutions will be presented to other associations of the district as a testimonial of the regard in which Dr. Newton is held by the physicians of his home county.

The Herald prints these resolutions because they present in brief a worthwhile tribute to one of the great citizens of Texas who is our neighbor. Publication of these resolutions is not authorized by the Society, due to ethics, and the Herald makes this explanation of their appearance in print.

WHEREAS, Dr. W. R. Newton, honored former President of the Milam County Medical Society, widely known Physician and Surgeon, and beloved citizen, is a candidate for the State Senate from the Thirteenth Texas Senatorial District, and,

WHEREAS, Dr. Newton has not only achieved renown in his profession, but as a citizen, neighbor, friend and Democrat, has established himself in the affectionate regard of thousands who have found in his life, lived among us, an expression of the highest character, ethics, intelligence, integrity, courage and resourcefulness, thus combining the qualities that commend him to the electorate for the high place of service he seeks, therefore be it resolved:

FIRST: That we, The Milam County Medical Society in session on this date, earnestly desiring that the people of the Thirteenth Senatorial District, and all Texas, have the benefit of his services in this important office, hereby heartily and unanimously indorse his candidacy and appeal to the people to elect him.

SECOND: Knowing the needs of our state, and realizing the opportunity now presented to send as the people's Representative to Austin, one so well equipped, we express as our thoughtful conclusion that Dr. Newton offers more in the aggregate of qualification and possibilities for service to all the people, than any candidate now seeking the suffrage of the people of this Senatorial District, and certainly typifies the character of Representative worthy of the traditions of our state and the deserving people of this district.

THIRD: That as co-workers in the field of medicine we can testify to the unswerving devotion Dr. Newton has shown at all times to the high calling. His ethics have been worthy in every way the exalted traditions of the profession which he has so well served as a good and faithful physician, and knowing his fidelity to duty and his life long example of loyalty, often expressed, we know that the forum to which the people are now calling him will find in him a worthy Representative.

FOURTH: A struggling youth from a farm in the rolling hills of the Ozark country in Arkansas, he worked his way through College, graduating and receiving his Medical Degree with honors at Memphis Hospital Medical College in 1899. In 1900 he moved to Milam county. In 1913, realizing the need for a large hospital in Milam County he moved to Cameron and built the Cameron Hospital which institution has been a big factor in the progress of our county.

FIFTH: Dr. Newton is a member and former President of the Milam County Medical Society; member of The Texas Medical Society; the American Medical Association and a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons, and is now serving his fourth consecutive term as Milam County Health Officer; that in the course of his experience his service in the Texas Senate will be invaluable in shaping laws to protect and improve the health of the people.

SIXTH: We hereby tender to Dr. Newton our indorsement for this office and our support in his campaign; that we also furnish Dr. Newton a copy and that a copy be made of record in the minutes of our Society to show our approval and commendation of Dr. Newton who so richly deserves the honors we seek for him.

OXSHEER SMITH GOES TO CAPITAL BY PLANE

Oxsheer Smith, the banker, in a long distance talk with Hilry H. Stedman in Cameron Monday, said he would leave Dallas airport around 9 o'clock for Washington on business.

Mr. Smith left Cameron late last week for Dallas. He took a plane for Washington early Monday and expects to be in the capital for several days.

From Washington he will go to Gardiner, Maine, to visit with his wife and her relatives, before returning to Cameron.

Mrs. Smith has been in Gardiner since early April. On April 9th a message to Mr. Smith at his bank in Cameron told of the death of Mrs. Mary Eldridge, aged aunt of Mrs. Smith.

Funeral services were held there shortly after her death. Interment will not be made until in May. Due to severe winters in the north, the dead are placed in receiving vaults until the earth thaws out in the sun of spring.

Mr. Smith will join his wife in the commitment services to be held there within the next few days.

CARL HENDERSON IS RELEASED UNDER BOND

Carl Henderson of Brantville, charged with two cases of burglary and two cases of felony theft in this county, has been released under $2,000 bond, $500 in each case.

Henderson was also released several days ago in Waco under a $1,000 Federal bond.

The cases against Henderson in Milam county and also in McLennan county, grew out of the robbing of the Tom Stidham store and post office at Jones Prairie and the Maysfield Mercantile Company at Maysfield, and where in each store the post office was connected with it and also robbed.

Sheriff Max Kennedy of Cameron said that Henderson would plead guilty to the four charges here some time between now and the 20th of May. At that time, he will go to Houston and accept the five year sentence given him in 1935 for robbery with firearms, in Harris county. He has been out under an appeal bond from Harris County.

The date of Henderson's trial for the Federal charge in Waco is not known here. Several months ago, two other men, Harry Harding and Dorris Miles, were convicted in Waco for the post office robberies at Jones Prairie and Maysfield. One is serving a term in El Reno, Oklahoma and the other at Leavenworth, Kansas.

Kennedy said there is yet another man to be caught in connection with the post office robberies in this county.

Old Folks Joyful As State Pensions Are Okayed By Board

Austin, April 27.—Old folks in Texas hailed joyfully today the news that the federal social security board had approved the state pension law.

Governor James V. Allred also expressed gratification and reiterated that pension payments could be expected to begin not later than July 1. He said at least $2,000,000 net would be on hand by that date for payments.

Chamber Issues Historical Sketch of Cameron and Milam County

Cameron with a population of approximately 6000 is the county seat of Milam, one of the original and historic counties of Texas, a territory that embraced in its original survey an area larger than the State of Vermont.

This city in its relationship to Texas and Centennial year has more than the common share in the heritage of these one hundred years of progress because geographically in the heart of that territory into which have been crowded through time many of the transcending events of Texas history.

Cameron was named for Captain Ewen Cameron, a native of the Highlands in Scotland, adventurer and soldier. In 1849 he was a cowboy riding the ranges in Victoria County. In that year or in subsequent months he joined the now famous ill-fated Mier expedition into Mexico, being a band of patriots from Milam and adjoining counties. The expedition split at San Antonio and Captain Cameron led the men into Mexico. He was executed by the Mexicans as a prisoner at Huehuetoca. Facing the firing squad Captain Cameron bared his breast and said: "I will show you how brave an American can die." In the charge that wiped out the band of heroes fifteen shot pierced the patriot's body. There is inscribed on the monument erected at La Grange, Texas, to the Mier men this tribute: "Lost we forget; this tribute to Captain Ewen Cameron is placed here."

Born in the Highlands in Scotland in 1811, he was killed in Mexico April 25, 1843. A soldier of the Republic of Texas. He died with his face to the foe. Cowards die many times before their death; the valiant never taste death but once."

Cameron was a small village before Sam Houston liberated Texas in the Battle of San Jacinto. From a cluster of log huts on the banks of Little River when the flag of Mexico waved in certain though disputed authority over Texas, Cameron has kept pace with development, and today is the commercial center of one of the largest trade territories in all Texas. To her marts each year come thousands whose buying toll runs into millions and here has been maintained through the years one of the great markets of that vast region called Central Texas, in which is embraced millions of acres of as rich and productive soil as can be found in any country in the world.

Milam County was created in 1836 from a former municipality of Mexico and is named for Benjamin J. Milam, patriot, who died while leading a band of heroic soldiers into San Antonio in one of the most dramatic struggles of the Texas Revolution. Its area is 959 square miles and has a population of approximately 40,000. It is exceeded in density of rural population only by three counties in Texas, maintaining an average of about 45 or more persons to the a most colorful picture. May is marked by important historical anniversaries, compared to other months, and few holidays.

Shop windows are blooming with straw hats of the masculine variety, and there are many bold spirits who have donned the summery skimmers, defying good form and bad weather at the same time. The zero hour is here for going over with a new top, and perhaps the sennits and milans, Bangkoks and Panamas will take an added significance if some of their history is recalled.

Straw hats have been generally used in the United States for 60 years, but their history reaches back into antiquity. Mercury, messenger of the gods, and himself something of a god in his own way, is always shown wearing the commonest sort of straw hat. Praxiteles' statue of June, which dates back to 350 B. C. is crowned with a "stephanos," which is another name for a straw kelly.

In more recent times investigators have discovered that Edmund Spenser, author of the "Faerie Queen" disported in a regulation straw hat in Elizabethan days, and the eighteenth century poet, Thomas Gray, of the "Elegy," boasted that his straw top-piece was lined with green.

This country is too much like a camp-meeting convert. When it is saved, it will not stay saved.

Suggestion to radio advertisers: Give the word "ordinary" a rest and oblige a long-suffering public.

Thank goodness it will be a long time before distillers have enough surplus to require government relief.

An Illinois hopeful is running on a platform that everyone be permitted to spell as he pleases. What is this—a government of the people or sign-painters?

Kemp

been accomplished and how their affairs have operated since it has been his privilege to service as head of the Commissioners Court.

Milam county occupies a unique place among Texas counties because of its financial statement. This is made so by reason of the fact that the court under Judge Kemp has never delved into doubtful adventures with its treasury nor indulged the credit of the county beyond the necessities as they arise in the course of events. The county now has on hand comfortable balances in all departments and no obligation unpaid. Milam county Bonds are today, as in years past, commanding a premium in the bond markets. The desirability of county securities for investments is ample testimony that back of their issuance is business administration of the affairs of the county.

Judge Kemp does not take credit for the liquid condition of the treasury but gives full credit to the commissioners who have worked with him to manage the business of the county.

Judge Kemp has endeared himself to thousands because he has had the disposition to aid others. Of especial importance in listing his services are the helpful things he has done for the Confederate veterans and their widows. For years he has given of his time and money to aid them in every problem. When the old age assistance law came into effect he was ready and did a noble part in assisting them with the problem. He hopes to see the legislature provide ample funds to pay every deserving aged person in Milam county and Texas and does not believe this aid should be hedged about by unnecessary restrictions.

In recent months the Commissioners Court has completed a worthy improvement in the court house in the placing of offices in the basement and providing sanitary accommodations. This work was done with the contribution of federal money and its advantages are now the property of the people with but negligible cost to the treasury.

Judge Kemp has recently obtained a statue of Ben Milam for whom the county was named, to be placed on the court house lawn. In addition he has entered into the spirit of the Centennial and has served well in encouraging the marking of our historic sites.

Aside from his duties as County Judge he has found time to enter into the activities of the communities and always with the helpful and co-operative spirit of one who appreciates the citizenship of the county and is grateful to them for their kind consideration of him.

In making this campaign Judge Kemp feels that the greatest he can offer is his record of public service to which he invites the attention of the people.

Judge Kemp asks his friends in all parts of the county to lend him their support and pledges a faithful performance of his duties.

MARCHES ON!

A 1926 model car popping along is certainly a true picture of a "has-been." Contrast it with the streamlined models of today. Compare its performance. It fades out of the picture . . . outmoded and obsolete.

And so it is with gas ranges. In their manufacture science and engineering have wrought advancements just as striking as in the automobile industry. Appearance, structural details and performance have been radically improved, creating a new standard in a cooking appliance. Without this modern cooking appliance no kitchen—no matter how modern its architecture and other appointments may be—can truthfully be called modern unless its range is a truly modern gas range!

So go modern with a new gas range. You can afford to. Terms are surprisingly small. See the newest 1936 models now on display.

We wonder how many people in Cameron have stopped to think about the wide variety of honors that Cameron school pupils have won during the past month in state-wide competition.

Each issue of the Yoemen Chant has brought to notice of the public some honor won by our schools.

In the recent Interscholastic contests, district, regional, and state honors have been won in such wide fields as agriculture, home economics, track, Latin, and band.

All commendation is due to the public and their instructors.

According to Miss Lillian Peck, state director of home economics, only progressive schools from throughout Texas made the effort to attend the Rally.

Cameron entries were made in class A competitions, since the home economics enrollment in Yoe High school

THE ACCURATE, TWO-ROW RIDING PLANTER

JOHN DEERE NO. 210—FOR COTTON,
CORN AND PEANUTS

Here's the riding cotton and corn planter that was designed especially to reduce planting costs for Texas farmers. Its accuracy and its adaptability to all methods of cotton planting have made it a big favorite.

The John Deere Saw-Tooth Type Steel Picker Wheel picks out the cotton seed one at a time, or more if desired, in any quantity per acre. It picks out the lint and trash with the seed—no clogging in the hopper. Corn, sorghum, peanuts, and other crops are planted accurately by the use of John Deere Natural Drop Seed Plates.

Tongue truck relieves horses of neck weight and makes machine run steadily. Shovel openers and covers have reversible points. Runner openers can be furnished in place of shovels if desired. Fertilizer attachment and press wheels can also be furnished.

"We Know Our Business"

CHEVROLET USED CAR SALES REACH 900,000

Chevrolet dealers' used car sales for the first six months of the current model year will reach the staggering total of more than 900,000 units.

This announcement was made by W. E. Holler, vice president and general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, was a highlight of an interview this week, in which Mr. Holler pointed out that his company's record-breaking new car volume is giving used car prospects an exceptionally wide assortment from which to choose. High volume sales of used cars, he said, are the natural outcome of the public's recognition that these offerings are sound transportation values.

"While the figures are remarkable," said Mr. Holler, "they are easily understandable in the light of what happened last November when the new Chevrolet was announced. The 1936 models received the most enthusiastic welcome of any new cars in the history of the company. In spite of the fact that dealers had been stocked in advance, it was necessary to maintain production at high levels all winter to keep pace with the demand.

"Such a situation can be accounted for only by the explanation that thousands of owners who would normally have driven their old cars a year or two longer were so strongly impressed by the new Chevrolet that they bought at once. As a matter of fact, the word 'old' in this connection is not at all accurate; for a high percentage of the trade ins since November 2 have not been old cars at all, but recent models with thousands of miles of satisfactory service left.

"The trade-in of these cars has had the result of increasing the quality, and also the variety, of dealer's used car stocks. Through the medium of advertising, Chevrolet has gone systematically about the job of acquainting the public with this situation, with special stress on the fact that the Chevrolet Red OK Tag—now, by the way, nearly 11 years old—makes it possible to buy a used car with full confidence. The newspapers of the United States have carried the bulk of the advertising, and the schedule is being increased in preparation for a further record sales this spring."

FIREMENS SCHOOL IS HELD IN CAMERON

Chief Frank Williams, State Instructor of Firefighting, was in Cameron April 23 for the purpose of instructing the Cameron, Rogers and Rosebud fire departments in better and more scientific means of fighting fires. Forty firemen were present at the fire drill held on the main street of Cameron Thursday night.

Chief Williams demonstrated a new method of laying hose from the fire plug to the fire, which will prove to be a great help in getting water on the fire when time is valuable. Correct use of the truck, pumps, and tools was also a part of the demonstration.

A new nozzle was introduced to the fire department, which produces a fine mist. The nozzle is used to enter a building and is also used to fight out oil fires.

Chief Williams reported to Frank Richter, truck driver, that the Cameron fire department was in excellent condition and gave praise to the smooth action of the truck and pumps.

Frank Richter said that two firemen will be sent to training school for firemen, to be held at A. & M. College next fall.

Down the Lane of MEMORIES

By BERENICE McLERRAN

In spite of her 82 years, there is still the sparkle in her eyes which represents keen interest in life and those around her. She loves both old and young, their interests are often, is sincere and enjoyable. Her soft white hair lends dignity and beauty to her age.

This woman is Mrs. Benno Vogel, who lives on South College Street. Mrs. Vogel came to Cameron in 1871. She was born in East Texas, near Huntsville, Walker County, February 11, 1854. When she first came to Cameron, Mrs. Vogel lived with her sister, Mrs. John Brooks, whose home was located where the Bigbee boarding house now stands.

"We had to pay for our schooling in those days. I attended private school here with Mrs. Homan as teacher. The private school was located at that time where the Cameron Ice & Cold Storage Company now stands. I also attended school here at school they called the "Old Academy," and which at that time was located on the grounds where the old two story grammar school now stands. The "Old Academy" was also used for plays, preaching and other community entertainments," Mrs. Vogel said.

She met and married Benno Vogel, who was in the grocery business here in the early days, and was located where the Hickman & Bailey Store is now located. Mr. Vogel was born in Leipzig, Germany. He died May 10, 1903. Mr. and Mrs. Vogel had two children, Ellen and John. Ellen Vogel died September 12, 1903, four months after the death of her father. The son, John, died January 12, 1929.

"We really had a good time in those days. We attended dances at the old McCown home on the banks of Little River. We would cross the river in a ferry boat. We used to wrap up in buffalo hides to keep warm. Cameron had its saloons and plenty of drinking in those days, Mrs. Vogel said.

Firestone
HIGH SPEED TIRE for 1936

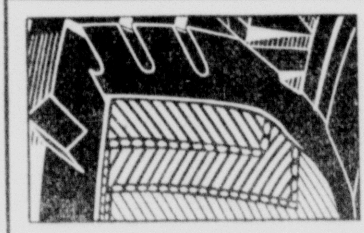

RACING drivers will not take chances on any tire except a Firestone Gum-Dipped Tire in the grueling Indianapolis 500-Mile Race, where its greater blowout protection has been repeatedly demonstrated.

Ab Jenkins, the famous driver, used Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires on his 3000-mile run over the Salt Beds of Utah, which he covered in 23½ hours—a record of 127 miles per hour. He has driven more than a million miles on Firestone Tires, in every state in the union, on all kinds of roads, in all kinds of traffic, without tire failure or accident of any kind. What a tribute to safe, dependable, economical tire equipment.

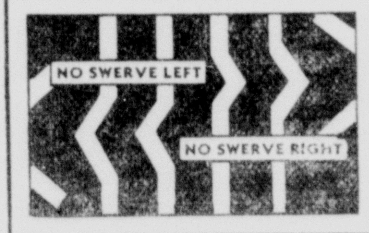

When you drive at today's higher speeds, your life and the lives of others are largely dependent upon the degree of safety built into the tires of your car. Take no chances—equip your car with new Firestone High Speed Tires today and be sure of the safest driving equipment money can buy.

The body of the New Firestone High Speed Tire is made from selected long-staple cotton dipped in liquid rubber, absorbing eight pounds of rubber in every hundred pounds of cotton. This patented Gum-Dipping process insulates every fiber in every cotton cord, preventing internal friction which creates the heat so destructive to tire life, and giving to the tire added strength.

This heavy, broad, traction and non-skid tread is held to the cord body of the tire with Two Extra Layers of Gum-Dipped Cords, a patented construction, making the cord body and tread an inseparable unit.

A leading university in 2350 tire tests has found that the new, scientifically designed Firestone High Speed tread stops a car up to 25% quicker. Its super-traction and non-skid efficiency have also been proved in the famous Pike's Peak Race where for eight consecutive years it has been used on the winning cars.

Historic Sketch

square mile. In 1935 more than 250,000 acres of land was tilled with a total tillable available area of 400,000 acres.

Milam County ranks high in percentage of rural stability because it is the center of the basic American industries of farming and live stock raising. It has a level to rolling surface at an altitude of from 400 to 600 feet. The annual rainfall is 33.86. Black waxy, loam and sandy loam soils predominate. Milam is a county of woodlands and streams also. Nature was lavish in bestowing her benefits. Blackjack and post oak timber are found in the Southwestern section; hickory and red oak grow on sandy streams. Hardwood and pecan timber are also found along the streams.

Seven miles south of Cameron is the Minerva oil field from which high grade crude oil is taken in large quantities, and adjacent to the field a refinery has been in operation since 1923. A short distance southeast of this field are the famous lignite mines of Milam County, said to be the largest in the world, giving industry the benefit of cheap fuel and affording employment to many people.

The annual cotton crop of the county is around 60,000 bales. The county produces more than a million bushels of corn and forage crops in large quantities. Grapes are grown in marketable volume and the county for years has been a cantaloupe, melon and tomato center. With its diversity of soils, climate and annual rainfall the business of farming is a year round engagement and therein lies the secret of great wealth and annual purchasing power that makes for a high average in business.

Beef cattle and hogs are raised in marketable volume each year and by reason of recent efforts on the part of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce the foundation has been laid on a large scale for a dairy industry that will add hundreds of thousands of dollars annually to farm purchasing power. In Cameron the Kraft-Phenix Cheese Corporation has installed a large capacity plant and indications are that dairying will become one of the large factors in the county's annual income. The total value of livestock in Milam County is around $2,000,000.00.

The honey bee takes rank among the wealth producing factors in Milam County. So important is the industry and so large the volume of honey that apiary owners truck their product to all parts of Texas and into adjoining States.

Within recent years poultry has become a leading industry in Milam County. Cameron is the center for this market and packing plants have been established here to properly market produce from the farm.

Cameron, in the center of this territory with its never failing sources of income, is growing fast. Cameron is served by two trunk line railroads, the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific. The city is a concentration point for cotton, supporting one of the largest compress plants in the state. Transportation facilities are responsible for the centering here of a large freight volume, the contiguous territory supporting a number of inland towns. Cameron has ten large manufacturing and wholesale firms whose annual volume of business runs into millions of dollars.

Among these industries are cheese factory, oil mill, wood mill, bottling industry, machine shop, ice manufacturing industry with shipment output, mattress factory, steam laundry, ice cream manufacturing plants, produce packing plants, two cream stations and various smaller industries.

Cameron is served by high lines of the Texas Power & Light Company and south-east of the city is located a sub-station with energy drawn from the great Trinidad plant. Abundance of cheap electric energy is available. Natural gas was brought to Cameron in 1926 and the city has this facility for domestic as well as industrial use.

Cameron has two banks with resources totaling around $5,000,000.00. The city also has a $100,000.00 hospital and one of the best school plants in Texas with the $200,000.00 Yoe High School building and the Ada Henderson school costing over $100,000.00. School systems are also maintained for the Negro and Mexican populations. The Catholics have just completed a new school building adjoining St. Monica's church, one of the most beautiful shrines of worship in the Galveston Diocese.

There is now under construction a new Physical Education and Vocational building at the high school costing $60,000.00 and the city has just completed Yoemen Field which center is the mecca for track and field events and the home of the Yoemen, Cameron's celebrated football teams and athletes.

Cameron has many miles of paved streets, an adequate water system, with a low tax rate, and Highways U. S. 77 and 190, and State Highways 44, 69 and 36 passing through Cameron leading to all sections of Texas.

Cameron is a distributing and retail center for farm machinery. Annually this industry transacts a large volume of business. The city's retail center is widely known for its business volume. Cameron is headquarters for a large number of traveling salesmen.

As an automobile sales center the city of Cameron has few equals. Here also is a number of allied industries.

One of the prized assets of the city is the High School Band of 50 pieces, now being widely publicized over the state for its talent.

Cameron owes much of its progress and social renown to its religious structure. Here are a number of faiths each with many thousands of dollars invested in buildings. Cameron has been widely celebrated as a city of churches and schools.

Cameron's annual Fair attracts many thousands of visitors. Plans are well under way now for the building of a Farm Center and county wide play ground for the Home Demonstration Clubs and Farm Organizations.

Cameron has a good system of parks and playgrounds for children.

Thus in brief outline this old town with its progressive atmosphere holds within its limits the elements that make for attractive dwelling place; in history and tradition comprehends the best of Texas and American influences and boasts a citizenry proud worthy the Lone Star State.

VACCINES DISCUSSED FOR POULTRY DISEASES

Fowl typhoid, cholera, chicken pox, and other diseases may be prevented and cured by the use of vaccines, Ad Hall farmers were told Tuesday night and practical demonstrations in the use of the vaccines were given by E. D. Parnell, teacher of the Ad Hall evening school. The group will meet again Wednesday night, April 29, it was agreed. The value of bull circles in breeding up dairy cattle was also discussed Monday night by Parnell and Dr. E. A. Cruse, chairman of the Agriculture Committee of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce.

Fowl pox or "sorehead" as it is commonly called, is prevented by the use of a live virus. Its use gives lifetime immunity, the group was told, and vaccine is applied to feather follicles by the use of a small brush. Birds may be treated for less than a penny each, it was stated. D. K. Hall furnished the poultry for the Monday night demonstration.

Cholera and fowl typhoid are diseases that kill adult birds very quickly and both diseases are widespread in Milam County a survey has revealed. The use of vaccine is being widely used both as a cure and a preventative. Roup, colds, and a few other poultry ailments are treated with vaccines, also, a mixed bacterin being recommended for such troubles. No vaccine has been developed for blackhead of turkeys, white diarrhea, coccidiosis or range paralysis, it was stated although these are common diseases among the flocks of the county.
